Preventing intrusions and managing information technology for 50 banks and their Florida branches accounts for roughly half of Compuquip Technologies' business. Founded in 1981, the privately held company also serves nonbank corporations and state and local governments. Security products include the sales, integration, monitoring and support of off-the-shelf products from Checkpoint, Nokia, ISS, Symantec, ESafe, Surfcontrol, NetIQ and numerous other security product manufacturers. The company performs services such as security assessments, policy development, penetration studies, and installing, tuning, monitoring and modifying security products. Pricing varies by engagement. Trained security professionals can be stationed directly at the bank or at the company's headquarters. Compuquip works with Microsoft, Novell and Linux operating systems and runs on Intel platforms.
